$50 Digital Gift Card

A simple way to say thank you while letting someone choose their own food. The A$50 Digital Gift Card gives a clear gift value without asking you to pick recipes on their behalf. It can also be bought for yourself. This listing is for a digital gift card, not a pre-selected meal box.

Gift card value: A$50.00. Listed purchase price: A$50.00 , checked 19 October 2026. Review the selected quantity and final total before paying.

Choose the A$50 digital gift card

Add the recipient details

The ordering page offers “I want to send this as a gift” with fields for the recipient’s email, an optional name and an optional message of up to 200 characters. It also includes a “Send on” date field.

Open the gift-card ordering page and select the gifting option if sending to someone else.

Check the recipient’s email carefully, then add any name, message and date details.

Review the denomination, quantity and recipient details before completing checkout.

If arrival on a particular date is important, confirm the digital delivery arrangements with our team before purchase.

Make the gift useful

If you are keeping to an A$50 gift budget, choose this denomination rather than estimating a number of meals from today’s menu prices. The recipient’s eventual food order has its own selections and charges. Check food delivery coverage for their address before choosing a food-related gift.

Questions before you buy

Does this guarantee a particular number of meals?

No meal quantity is listed with the card. Its denomination is A$50; check current food prices and redemption conditions when planning the recipient's order.

Where can I check expiry and redemption details?

Contact our team for the conditions relevant to this digital card, including validity, redemption and any intended offer or purchase. Call 1300 263 257 or email support@befitfood.com.au .
