Be Fit Food Tape Measure

The Be Fit Food Tape Measure is a separate accessory for your personal measurement records. If measurements are something you choose to track, it gives you a tool to use alongside your notes or journal.

Price: A$4.95, including tax. Check current availability, delivery options and the final order total at checkout.

Choosing your accessories

A tape measure and a journal serve different purposes: one takes a measurement, while the other gives you a place to keep a record. Explore the 14-Day Nutrition and Movement Journal if you would also like an accessory for recording your Reset experience.

For information about the food itself, visit our program guide or browse the meal menu . This accessory does not include a meal selection.

Questions about the tape measure

Are the length and measurement units specified?

The current listing does not state these specifications. Ask our team before ordering if you need a particular length or scale.

Is a journal included?

This product is listed as the tape measure. The Nutrition and Movement Journal has its own separate product listing.
